

Where asset management comes together

Everything in one place

Carne makes operations simpler for organisations right across the asset management industry: expertise in the areas of risk, due diligence, compliance, distribution and governance... united through a digital platform, to give our clients total control.

How we save our clients time, money and stress

Asset management is a fragmented industry: many entities operating many systems and formats in many locations, with poor compatibility. Data is inputted manually – time consuming and a source of error. Tasks are duplicated, again and again. Countless hours and resources are lost reconciling data and chasing information. Meanwhile the regulatory environment is ever more complex and the pace of change ever faster. Mistakes are costly.

We help simplify operations by bringing them together. Four things in combination set us apart. Specialised knowledge. Groundbreaking technology. People of calibre completely invested in your success. And last, but not least, the belief in our power and responsibility – as a company and industry – to be a force for good.

Our capabilities:

Carne Manco

We are Europe's largest third-party fund management company, the fastest, most reliable, most cost-effective route to market.

Carne Select

We use our expertise in the field to help clients improve the performance of their own in-house management companies, and give asset managers tactical opportunities to increase efficiency. Pick services, pure technology or a mix of both from our toolkit to best suit your needs.

Carne Unite

Our technology and knowledge provide institutional investors, distributors and investment managers with the opportunity to re-evaluate strategy at scale.

Masters of your world through our digital platform

Our digital platform, Curator, brings specialised regulatory knowledge, workflow experience and data together through industry-leading technology. Curator covers the entire fund lifecycle: product masterview, risk, oversight, reporting, due diligence, global registrations and more. Intelligent digitisation from start to finish. Teams 100% clear on what they're doing next. Data analytics and automation to work smarter. Everything right where you want it. Curator is, quite literally, where asset management comes together.

Simply more effective

Faster and smarter to market

We reduce time to revenue for clients all around the world. Our knowledge allows you to make more informed strategic decisions. Our local infrastructure means you can scale up faster. Our workflow expertise gets things done right. Our technology eliminates operational risk, which saves errors, delay and reputations. Our data analytics and automation cuts countless hours of manual labour, allowing you to focus where it matters. Things happen faster, more efficiently and more effectively with Carne.

Global capability from individual attention

We partner with clients of all sizes and types within asset management. We're trusted by some of the biggest names in the industry, but we've also been on extraordinary journeys with companies that started out small. At Carne you'll be given the same degree of focus, regardless of size. Our business runs on trust, and that means every individual taking the responsibility to know your needs and ensure they're met. It takes attention to detail to make technology unique, knowledge work harder, relationships what they are. That's what you'll get from us.

What we stand for

Our aim is to see the fragmented asset management industry united through the simplicity our work provides. If you partner with us, you'll find us constantly looking for ways to make things easier for you, and to better connect you with your own fund universe. Our relationships are founded on:

Thoughtfulness

To improve your experience

Togetherness

To achieve more than we could alone

Discipline

To build trust

Tenacity

To get things done

Bounce

To find joy in (and create joy with) the work we do together

We also believe that together we have an opportunity to help shape critical decisions and behaviours at the heart of one of the world's most powerful industries. There's an environmental crisis to address. A more inclusive industry to build. So many things to do. United, change is possible. We're profoundly motivated by being a force for good.

First into the future

We have a history of thought leadership that's created advantages for clients and better outcomes for investors. We've introduced industry firsts on UCITS funds, common contractual funds and illiquid strategies. We helped pioneer third-party management and the importance of strong independent governance. The platform we've built transforms collaboration in our industry. We're excited for the future, and more excited still to find like-minded partners to help us shape it.
